BACCALAUREATE SERVICE FOR
THE CLASS OF 2019 IN HARVARD COLLEGE

Tuesday, May twenty-eighth, two thousand nineteen two o’clock in the afternoon
in the sanctuary of the Memorial Church
The limited seating capacity of the Memorial Church permits the admission of candidates for degrees only, in academic costume. The service is broadcast into Tercentenary Theatre, where parents and friends are invited to take their seats after they have reviewed the academic procession. The procession forms in the Old Yard, steps off from Holworthy Hall, and passes the western front of University Hall, where candidates doff their mortarboards to John Harvard. Led by their Class Marshals, they then proceed to the eastern side of University Hall and to the western porch of the Memorial Church.

This service is conducted by Professor Jonathan L. Walton, Plummer Professor of Christian Morals and Pusey Minister in the Memorial Church. Prayers are offered by Khalil Abdur-Rashid, Muslim Chaplain at Harvard University; Kathleen Reed, Harvard Chaplain, Lutheran Campus Ministry; President, Harvard Chaplains; and Jonah Steinberg, Harvard Chaplain; Executive Director, Harvard Hillel.

The Commencement Choir is led by Andrew G. Clark, Director of Choral Activities and Senior Lecturer on Music at Harvard University; Edward E. Jones, Gund University Organist and Choirmaster in the Memorial Church; and Thomas M. Sheehan, Associate University Organist and Choirmaster in the Memorial Church.

The Harvard College Class of 2019 Marshals are Catherine Leigh Zhang (First Marshal); Anant T. Pai (Second Marshal); Cleanna May Crabill, Ruiqi He, Tyler Stefan LeComer, Alexander Popovski, Juliana Rodriguez, and Simi Nitin Shah (Program Marshals); and José Avonce, Hanna Marie Glissendorf, Amrita Mohanty, Kailash Subbiah Sundaram, and Sarah Shahid Zia (Gift Marshals).

THE BACCALAUREATE SERVICE

The Baccalaureate Service has long been associated with the commencement exercises of American colleges and universities and forms a link between these increasingly secular institutions and their religious origins. The term baccalaureate is derived from two Latin words, bacca, or “berry,” and laureus, “laurel,” which might refer to the wreaths of laurel with which new graduates were crowned in European ceremonies of the medieval period.

Harvard’s first Commencement, that of 1642, is the first recorded such ceremony in English North America, and in it are rudiments of its Cambridge University ancestor, whose thirteenth-century statutes describe a Baccalaureate sermon preached while a candidate “sat with bowed head over which his hood was drawn, a picture of abject humility and utter embarrassment.” No seventeenth-century Harvard Baccalaureate sermons survive: eighteenth-century specimens are post-revolutionary, with the 1794 sermon of David Tappan, third Hollis Professor of Divinity, one of the oldest. One symbol of continuity maintained in this service is the singing of Psalm 78 to the tune St. Martin’s. The text and tune have been sung at Harvard Commencement and Baccalaureate at least since 1806.

In the nineteenth century, the seniors in Harvard College routinely extended an invitation to the President to address them, and with few exceptions this tradition has been maintained. For some years it has been our happy custom to include the readings from scriptures sacred to the many religious traditions of the Class and to invite members of the Harvard Chaplains to offer prayers in behalf of the Class, the University, and the world. The occasion is both joyful and solemn, intimate and public, filled with the exuberance of youth and sustained by venerable and weighty tradition. Next to Commencement itself, Baccalaureate is perhaps our oldest public occasion.

ORDER OF SERVICE

PROCSSIONAL  from Music for the Royal Fireworks (1749)  George Frideric Handel (1685–1759)

Following the Class Marshals the candidates for degrees enter into the body of the church.

PRESIDENTIAL FANFARE  Domine, salvum fac  Charles Gounod (1818–1893)

The Class stands at the entrance of the President.

Domine, salvum fac, Præsidem nostrum,
Et exaudi nos in die qua invocaverimus te.

O Lord, save our President,
And answer us when we call on you.

SALUTATION  Jonathan L. Walton
Plummer Professor of Christian Morals and Pusey Minister,
The Memorial Church, Harvard University

HYMN  Give Ear, Ye Children, to My Law  St. Martin’s

The Class standing

1. Give ear, ye children, to my law
   Devout attention lend,
   Let the instructions of my mouth
   Deep in your hearts descend.

2. My tongue, by inspiration taught,
   Shall parables unfold:
   Dark oracles, but understood
   And owned for truths of old,

3. Which we from sacred registers
   Of ancient times have known,
   And our forefathers’ pious care
   To us has handed down.

4. Let children learn the mighty deeds
   Which God performed of old,
   Which, in our younger years, we saw,
   And which our fathers told.

5. Our lips shall tell them to our sons,
   And they again to theirs,—
   That generations yet unborn
   May teach them to their heirs.

ANTHEM

To the River Charles (2016)

River! that in silence windest
Through the meadows, bright and free,
Till at length thy rest thou findest
In the bosom of the sea!
Four long years of mingled feeling,
Half in rest, and half in strife,
I have seen thy waters stealing
Onward, like the stream of life.

Friends my soul with joy remembers!
How like quivering flames they start,
When I fan the living embers
On the hearth-stone of my heart!
’T is for this, thou Silent River!
That my spirit leans to thee;
Thou hast been a generous giver,
Take this idle song from me.

from “To the River Charles” (publ. 1866) by Henry Wadsworth Longfellow (1807–1882)

ANTHEM  Veritas: A Celebration of the Centuries (2019)
_Chang Hon Michael Cheng ’19 (b. 1997)
[17th c.; motto adopted 1643]_

Veritas—
Give ear, ye children, to my law
Devout attention lend
Let the instructions of My mouth
Deep in your hearts descend
Trust thyself:
Every heart vibrates to that iron string.
Plunge into the sublime seas,
Dive deep,
And swim far.
For, after all,
Every one who wishes
To gain true knowledge
Must climb the Hill.
I slip back many times,
I fall, I stand still,
I trudge on
I get more eager
And climb higher
And begin to see
The widening horizon.
_Every struggle is a victory._
[20th c.; Helen Keller AB 1904]
So wake up—
wake up!
Lift your voices
You belong among the stars.
Together, we can inspire
galaxies of greatness
For generations to come.
The sky is not the limit.
It is only the beginning.

So wake up—
Wake up!
Lift off. [21st c.; Donovan Livingston EdM '16]

ADDRESS  Lawrence S. Bacow MPP-JD '76, PhD '78
President of Harvard University

HYMN  Now Thank We All Our God  Nun danket alle Gott

The Class standing

Now thank we all our God with heart and hands and voices,
Who wondrous things hath done, in whom his world rejoices,
Who, from our parents’ arms, hath blessed us on our way
With countless gifts of love, and still is ours today.

O may this bounteous God through all our life be near us,
With ever joyful hearts and blessed peace to cheer us,
And keep us in his grace, and guide us when perplexed,
And free us from all ills in this world and the next.

BLESSING  Jonathan L. Walton
Plummer Professor of Christian Morals and Pusey Minister,
The Memorial Church, Harvard University

RECESSIONAL  Grand chœur dialogué (1881)  Eugène Gigout (1844–1925)

The Class exits following the President, clergy, readers, and Class Marshals.
